the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1.2 million (Office of National Statistics 1999). The number of people aged 85 and over has increased by 0.5 million in the same period.

There is a growing awareness of the need to develop services to meet the needs of the ageing population. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for ageing, which sets out the government's commitment to improve the lives of older people. The strategy is based on three main principles: to promote independence, to provide support and to ensure that older people are treated with respect and dignity.

The strategy also sets out a number of key objectives, including: to reduce the number of older people who are in care homes; to improve the quality of care in care homes; to increase the number of older people who are employed; to improve the health and social care services available to older people; and to ensure that older people are consulted on decisions that affect them.

The strategy is a landmark document, which sets out a clear vision for the future of ageing in the UK. It is a document that will guide the development of services for older people for many years to come. It is a document that we hope will help to improve the lives of older people in the UK.

DEFINING CHANGE

CHANGE: To make different; alter

From the comforts of the new Student Government Association's office to the threat of a new college president, students found change to play a major role in college life.

New faces were found on campus in both the student body and the faculty. New leaders could be found in a variety of the administration offices. With the teamwork of Steve Smith, the new Dean of Students, and Diane Jamison Director of Student Activities, the year ahead looked promising.

Returning students soon found out that the same old buildings were not the same. What was once the Religious Activity Building, that housed the Baptist Student Union, is now the home of the post office and the office of the Student Government Association. The Baptist Student Union can now be found across the street in the newly renovated Lawrence Hall. Renovations had taken place in the Student Center supplying students with an on campus fast food spot, "The Grill". Even Bryant Hall had been improved with the addition of new bedroom furniture, and after a good night sleep, students were ready for the start of a new semester

The year started with the dull roar of registration, where students found up to four hours of lines. Soon after student moral reached an all time high, only to plunge down to the all time low, after an announcement from the Board of Trustees that President Noonkester's contract would not be renewed. Although moral was low, students pulled together to express their dissatisfaction with the decision and once again there was drastic change in the life of the college. Shortly afterward, the Board overturned their decision, and reinstated the President.

When all the alterations of college life were taken into consideration it was evident that the 1988-89 school year would be a year of DEFINING CHANGE.

STUDENT LIFE:
The behavioral habits of a person while enrolled in college.

Student life in college never ceases. The day begins at breakfast for the earlybirds, while the late risers usually stumble into class half asleep, forgetting about the morning meal. After classes one might find the girls gathered around the lobby television catching up on the soaps. A consensus, according to Gretchen Koehler, shows that the all time favorite is Days of Our Lives, with Santa Barbara running a close second.

As the evening approaches, students miraculously come alive. - One reliable source, Tim Fell, tells that at any given time a member of the male population from the campus may be found working out at the Fourth Street gym.

Night life consists of attending sports events, socializing during open dorms, study sessions, and going to movies, which is Dedra Martin's favorite pastime. When the munchies hit, many students can be found pigging out at Rocket City, Shoney's, Indy's and Krystals.

When the long awaited weekend finally arrives those students who remain in the dorms venture to the Kamper Park and Zoo, or they spend the afternoon soaking in the rays or water skiing at Paul B. On Sundays students attend the local churches and then catch up on last minute studying.

There are many special activities provided for students. Concerts and parties are scheduled by different organizations. Who could forget the Womanless Beauty Pageant, the Madrigal Dinner, or the production of The Diviners which left students crying.

On the Coast Campus, students enjoy going to the beach to play volleyball or a game of soccer. Some coast students favorite daily activity is playing with the mascot, Fred The Dog, adopted by the students.

Studies take up most of the students' time on the New Orleans Campus, but they manage to take time out for a King Cake Party during Mardi Gras. Even when the students have free time, they manage to keep busy with their nursing studies by attending conferences.

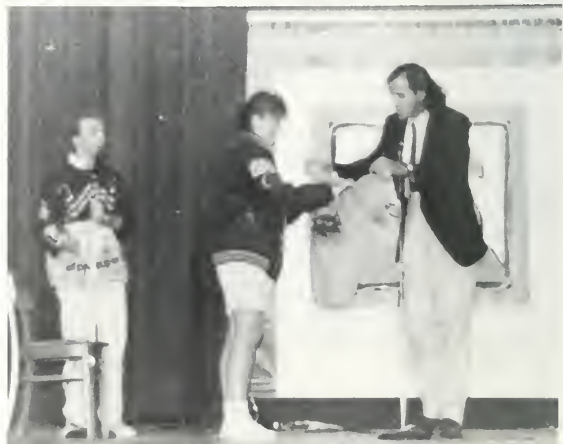

Student life plays an important role in college. No matter where you find a student, on the campus in Hattiesburg, the Coast, or in New Orleans, on or off the campuses you know they'll be having fun.

SUMMER TIME

SUMMER: a bright and prosperous period

Summertime is the time of year when the weather gets hotter, the campus population decreases incredible, and most of the students take a much needed vacation. However, the truly dedicated ones remain here to either take those classes needed towards their degree, work in the wonderful dinner theatre, or participate in sports camps.

Tony Bernard has stayed here for the past two summers. He says that the classes are quite a bit smaller.

Even though the campus seems pretty empty one can always find the warm kind energy that keeps this campus going all summer long.

The sports camps hosted throughout the summer keep the students on their toes. Baseball, basketball, and cheerleading clinics help fill the long summer days. The yells of the hard working athletes echo throughout the neighborhood.

The Carey Dinner Theatre is the highlight of the summer. Each person works long hard hours preparing for the extravagant productions presented by the theatre department. The Carey Dinner Theatre is a little of everything rolled into one. The productions have been widely praised and everyone is encouraged to attend.

Although a lot of students go home during the summer, those who

A PARTY?

PARTY: a gathering for pleasure.

At the beginning of each semester Welcome Back Parties are sponsored by the Student Government Association and the Baptist Student Union.

Under the lure of good food — preferably pizza — new students and old come and watch movies, EAT, catch up on the latest news and laugh at the entertainment being presented.

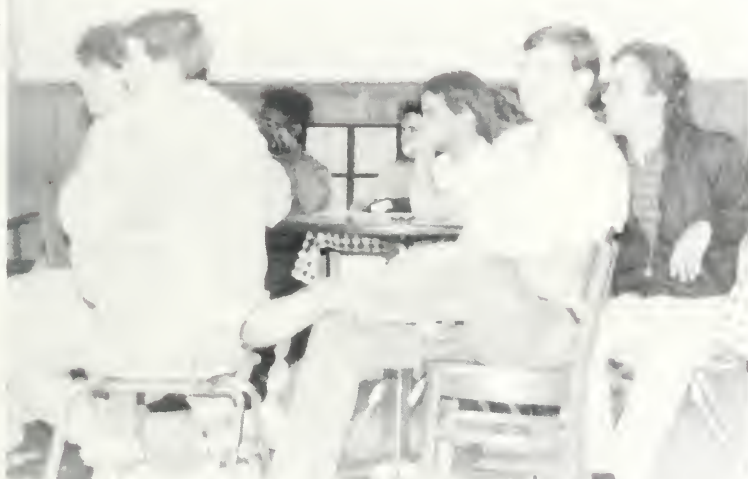

Welcome Back Parties are a big part of student life. It helps the students get acquainted, get to know each other better and feel ... well "welcome." It is a great way to start off the semester before getting back to the old grind.

LET THE GAMES . . .

GREEK WEEK: the four days of greek fun

After experiencing a huge success with the Greek Games last year Lambda Iota Tau asked the Student Government Association to help sponsor a whole week of greek fun. The celebration began with a toga parade. Clubs were encouraged to sponsor greek events such as the toga party sponsored by Pi Omega, Greek Tuesday Night Together — Baptist Student Union and a comical Greek Tragedy written and performed by the Serampore Players and members of Alpha Psi Omega. Tensions built as the week continued. — Finally the big event — The Greek Games!

Even though it rained most of the day the games continued and not many minded the rain. The week ended with the big awards bar-b-que which had to be moved indoors due to the weather, however the day and the entire week was enjoyed by all.

CATCHING UP ON NIGHT LIFE

NIGHT LIFE: cycle of body stimuli and responses, after the sun goes down

Nighttime means different things to different people. Some use it to catch-up after they are done with their busy schedules. They catch-up on studying, television programs, or the popular sleeping.

Of course many folks also catch-up on socializing. Creative students find many ways to do just that. Those who like to keep in shape through mild exercise can be found walking with their friends all over campus. (Sometimes, long evening walks are great ways to get to know that special guy or girl.) Congregating in the lobbies to patiently watch various athletic tournaments is also popular on campus. Other events sponsored by various clubs and organizations such as Gamma Chi, Pi Omega, the B.S.U. and the S.G.A., give even more opportunities for relaxation.

Aside from just things that can be done on campus, many also choose to explore the wilds of Hattiesburg. Believe it or not Hattiesburg has many natural resources — Paul B. Johnson State Park, Kamper Zoo and Park and of course the many interesting folks you meet at County Market.

Students catching-up is what night life here is all about — catching-up on the latest movies, catching-up on the soup of the day at Rocket City Diner and catching-up on all the things our best friend did last night while she was catching-up. Funny we never seem to get caught up.

DEDICATION 1989 DR. J. RALPH NOONKESTER

As we come to the point of dedicating the 1989 Crusader, let us look at the word "DEDICATION." Let us apply that word to the person being honored.

D... DEDICATION... The person being honored here today has given time and again the total dedication needed to get the job done.

E... EFFORT... Our honoree is always willing to give the effort needed... whatever the case may be.

D... DEVOTION... If the person being honored today were not devoted to William Carey College, that person would not be here today.

I... INTELLIGENT... The intelligence of our honoree has been proven time and time again as plans have been made and problems solved.

C... CHRISTIAN... only a strong Christian commitment could have kept our Honoree going over the years in good times and in bad.

A... ACTIVE... One never knows where our honoree will show up next during an endless round of work, special events, etc. If that energy could be bottled we'd pay off the national debt ... or at least Carey's.

T... TEMPERATE... Our honoree can "stay cool" even in times of crisis and remain silent when lesser persons would speak their minds.

I... INDUSTRIOUS... Willing to work early and late and long seeking the best for William Carey College.

O... OBSESSED... With the need to move William Carey College forward toward what it will and must be.

N... NOW... After thirty-seven years of service as professor, dean, and president ...

We dedicate this, the Crusader '89, to a most dedicated man, a man who has proven himself again and again, our president ... Dr. J. Ralph Noonkester.

LIVE ON STAGE

DRAMA: a dramatic production performed live on stage before a live audience causing a release of emotion.

Life, love, fear, and pain came alive in the O. L. Quave Theatre's productions of The Diviners and Charlotte's Web.

The season opened with a touching story of Buddy, a brain-damaged boy with a very interesting gift. He could divine water, but he was so terrified of water he would not even touch it.

It is only when a drifter, C. C. Showers, comes to town that Buddy begins to overcome his fears. C. C. takes time with the boy and believes he can help. When C. C. breaks through Buddy's fear and finally gets him to bathe in the river, the townspeople show up and mistake it for a baptism. C. C. turns to tell the townfolk one last time that he is not a preacher and never will be. It is then that Buddy slips away and drowns in the river where his mother died.

The fall season ended with Charlotte's Web, the story of a runt piglet, Wilbur, who is saved by a farm girl, Fern. This is how Wilbur first learns of kindness and love. As Wilbur grows up he learns the fate farm pigs face. Once again Wilbur is saved by an intelligent spider, Charlotte, as she spins words in her

FALL CARNIVAL

CARNIVAL: a festival of food and fun

Step right up and get a chance ... This phrase is heard in every movie containing a carnival, but who wants to see a carnival in a movie when they can experience the food and fun first hand at the Fall Carnival celebration?

Clubs and organizations from every corner of the campus sponsored a fun filled evening on Thursday, October 27. Anything from hot dogs to a moonwalk could be found. Students could be seen playing Music

Bingo, dunking a friend in the dunking booth, or even trying to hatch an egg? And if hatching an egg wasn't enough fun, then the haunted house offered a chance to be scared out of your wits.

The evening was fun, fattening, and scary, and also enjoyed by all.

DINNER OF OLDEN DAYS

MADRIGAL: a song popular during the 16th century

With the arrival of the first of December, the Winter's School of Music celebrated the beginning of its eleventh year performing its Madrigal Christmas Dinner. As expected, the dinner met and exceeded the high standard of excellence that its predecessors had established.

The bare stage located in the Thomas Fine Arts Center was, through the hard work of students and faculty alike, transformed into a sixteenth century dining hall, traditional to castles of the nobility during the period. It was here that the audience was invited to dine with the "lord and lady" and witness the presentation of the boar's head and the flaming plum pudding.

Throughout the meal, spectators experienced interludes of music provided by the Carey Coarillon, strolling min-strals, and the Madrigal Singers. Occasionally, a member of the audience was selected to participate in the hilarious antics of the Merry-maker and the Court Jesters.

With its eleventh season, the Madrigal Christmas Dinner saw the addition of two performances to its regular schedule, creating a run of two consecutive weekends. This allowed the already enthusiastic college and community audience to have a greater selection of performance dates, each of which averaged about one hundred and fifty people per performance.

MISS CAREY PAGEANT

PAGEANT: a show intended for pomp

Celebrate America was the theme of the 1989 Miss William Carey Pageant with master of ceremonies, Billy Browning. Also featured in the pageant was the 1988 Miss Mississippi singing a favorite by Loretta Lynn.

There were six beautiful women that participated in the pageant. Sherri Allen a Sophomore majoring in musical theatre is from Franklinton, Louisiana. Sheri performed a vocal piece entitled "Pour On The Power".

Freshman, Lisa Robicheaux, is from Luling, Louisiana. Lisa is pursuing a degree in theatre and plans to teach after finishing college. Lisa performed an original dance to "Hit the Beat".

Cassandra Coleman a business administration major from Ellisville, Mississippi performed a piano selection.

Singing "You're My World" was

Kyla Ezell. Kyla is a Freshman from Waynesboro, Mississippi and is majoring in radiology.

Edna Fernandez is from Gulfport, Mississippi and is undecided in a major as of now but she performed a beautiful piano selection.

A French aria "The Jewel Song" from Faust by Gounod was beautifully sang by Robin Tamney a music therapy major from Sylvester, Georgia.

Celebrate America began with a parade of the contestants dressed in some of the most breathtaking gowns ever. While the ladies were backstage changing into their swim suits Miss Mississippi 1988 Carla Hagg sang a favorite by Loretta Lynn. The looks were magnificent as the ladies paraded across the stage dressed in their swim suits. But the eye-catching swim suit of the pageant was the one worn by Lisa Robicheaux. The bright and vivid colors of flowers was a marvelous change from the solid colors of the past.

There are quite a few awards that go along with the pageant. Miss William Carey 1989 received a $800 scholarship, a week in Vicksburg, a trophy and flowers. The first alternate received a $450 scholarship, a trophy and flowers. And receiving a $300 scholarship, a trophy and flowers was the second alternate.

Now the moment you have been waiting for: Second alternate Lisa Robicheaux, First alternate Sherri Allen and now the new Miss William Carey College 1989 Kyla Ezell.

HOMECOMING EXCELLENCE

HOMECOMING: a celebration in which alumni come home to the college campus.

From the opening parade to the closing dance, Homecoming was obviously one of the most exciting events of the year.

The festivities started with a parade through the streets of the campus, featuring club sponsored floats with catchy themes. Pi Omega's "Expecting a Victory" was the big award winner, while the Serampore Players' "Batter the Rams", and the Med-Tech Club's "Dissect the Rams" ran a close second and third.

Friday night was a night of brightness and warmth despite the cold temperature, as students gathered for a pep rally bonfire which was not rained out. Although the temperature was low outside students enjoyed the ice cream and movies presented in the Student Center by the SGA after the pep rally.

Saturday was the big day, and it started very early for Gamma Chi members as they prepared for the 5k run. But that night it was the Lady Raiders who received a victory over the Lady Rams of Mobile College. The Crusaders in their game gained an early lead and managed to hold it till halftime but only to lose the game while putting up a brave fight.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the beautiful Homecoming Court as they were escorted on to the basketball court by their handsome escorts. The halftime festivities reached its climax as President Noonkester crowned Miss Shatnon Robert the 1989 Homecoming Queen.

After the game students celebrated the end of the Homecoming festivities with a dance sponsored by Pi Omega and Gamma Chi.

PEOPLE

Rest And Relaxation: Tay Robinson rests while watching T.V. R. Robichaux

Time For A Drink The BSU sponsored a reception for their guest speaker. R. Thomaston

PEOPLE: The body of persons who compose a community. If a person were to visit any institutional function at William Carey, be it a Sadlers Basketball game or a chapel service in Thomas Auditorium, it would not take long for that person to draw a conclusion about the students. They are very diverse.

It is this diversity among the people, particularly the students, that make Carey an interesting and enlightening place. For at Carey, one can find exceptional athletes, musicians, educators, business men and women, artists, and scientists who could and, in many cases, do adapt to many other areas of study successfully.

Though sometimes a hindrance, these diversities are not harmful to student life as a whole. Diversity is an asset.

Diversity becomes thus when it allows students to view an opinion from someone else's mindset. Diversity becomes an asset in a meeting when an international student uses his own cultural traditions to place emphasis on a universal belief.

Diversity becomes an asset when students from all areas of study come together to express their ideas concerning an adverse situation and make a stand, defending those ideas.

As a result, some much needed and long awaited changes occurred and, in many instances, closed minds are opened.

- A willingness to accept diversity;
- A willingness to support diversity;
- A willingness to encourage diversity;

These are the characteristics which constitute the people of William Carey College.

ORGANIZATIONS

Lock'em Up Donna Wolfe and Amy Matthews are the BSU jailers. R. Thomaston

ORGANIZATION: A group arranged to serve the needs of its members. From parties to parades to picnics, one will always find an organization responsible for the fun in college life. The Student Government Association was the main force behind most of the entertainment which students enjoyed while on and off the campus. By supplying comedy shows, ice cream parties, bon fires and off campus movies, the SGA developed a sense of belonging to one and all. The Baptist Student Union supplied students with the extra spiritual support often needed. Noonday, and TNT (Tuesday Night Together) allowed students to share fellowship which cannot always be found in larger universities.

Other organizations offer students an extra boost in their major field of study. Phi Beta Lambda - business, Lambda Iota Tau - English, and Alpha Psi Omega - Theatre, are just a few of the greek letter fraternities which offer an interest in education as well as extracurricular activities. Clubs such as the Science Society, Psychology club and the numerous Music clubs allow students to have fun while doing what they do best.

Social clubs such as Gamma Chi and Pi Omega add an extra spice to college life, for their members and their Big Brothers. These are clubs which extend the opportunity to make friends with people who have different backgrounds, needs and goals.

College organizations offer more than anyone realizes. They offer the chance to grow scholastically, spiritually, physically and socially. The clubs and organizations at this institution truly represent the purpose of the college as well as the needs of the students.

SPORTS: a game; a merry-making out-of-door recreation.

Defining change in the sports program is difficult. One can not change excellence. Sports is well supported by the students and faculty alike. Most obvious support can be found at the Crusader Basketball games, where students don their black and red, and form a pep squad, or rhythm section. Fans cheer the Crusaders throughout the basketball season, against rival teams Belhaven, Dillard and Xavier. And a winning season with a record of 21-13 does not let the fans down.

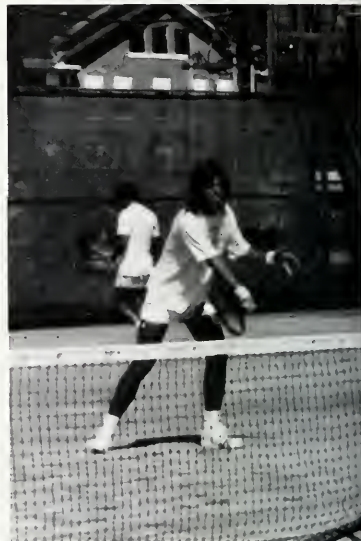

The Lady 'Saders pulled together demonstrating team effort to win against strong opponents like USM, Xavier and Mobile College. Finishing the season 11-16 they truly showed good sportsmanship.

The Soccer team proved that sports on the coast can hold their own, by winning both District and Area Title Tournaments. Team effort ruled the playing field as the Crusader's team pulled together to end their season with a superior record of 14-6. The Sader fans thank the team and wish them the best for next year.

The Baseball team rewarded fans once again by winning the honor to play the Area II Playoffs in Dallas. With a record of 25-19 it was clear that the baseball team excelled in teamwork throughout the season.

Tennis is a rising sport. Holding a season record of 14-9 against teams such as Millsaps, USM and Spring Hill proved a winning team has been achieved. Fans support the team's effort.

Although sports may show little change, it is clear they add to the definitions of teamwork and sportsmanship, and this is Defining Change.

Good Job Small classes allow the teachers to work with the students on a one-on-one basis. R. Thomaston

ACADEMIC: Belonging to, or part of a college or university

Academics has always and will always be emphasized. Being a small college has its benefits. One benefit is the amount of one-on-one instruction offered.

This allows each student to develop to his full potential. Teacher and students work together to build on the foundation already set.

In the past this foundation was continued in one main field with little emphasis in other areas. Changes have occurred to include a wide range of areas to enhance the students major. By eliminating individual schools of Arts and Sciences, Music, Business, Education, and Nursing to form one college of Liberal Arts, students become well prepared in both a major and several fields of study to rely upon.

Constantly the faculty defines change not only in the courses offered but in the faculty members themselves. Retirement is always a sad word for students to hear. Especially when the list of names include Dr. Clawson and Mrs. Holliman, who retired last year. This year they were joined by Mrs. Jennie Lou Breland and she will be missed.

Retirement is not the only changes in the faculty. New teachers bring new ideas to the college. Mrs. Easterling brought new styles of teaching to the English Department. Changes which earned her the honor of Outstanding Teacher of the Year.

Changes can have a negative reaction but this is not the case at Carey. Change is always welcome. It allows students, faculty and staff the chance of advancement. It is clear that academics are and will constantly be Defining Change.

PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Change At Carey

"A college is very easy to disrupt. It is held together neither by steel cables nor enforceable laws. All that holds it together normally are goodwill, tolerance and a common respect for reason and for reasonableness. When extremists set about it, these binding threads can be all too readily snapped, unless many courageously make the effort to sustain, protect, and advance the institution in which they have a share and a stake."

This statement was made to new students by their president, Robert F. Goheen, at Princeton University on September 22, 1968.

William Carey College, during the year recorded in this volume of the Crusader, has known the disruption of change. Especially is this evident in the move away from separate schools within a college cluster to one college of arts and sciences with its professional divisions. A distinct move away from the professionalization of the faculty has been made at our school in 1989. A new dynamic towards liberal arts education has been at work.

There are dynamic changes in the attitudes of Carey students. Especially is this seen in the dead-seriousness and sincerity that many Carey students this year exhibit about their desire to connect education with Christian values. A very impressive group of honors students has given a good flavor to the campus this year. Students in pressing for changes at our college, for the most part, have shown a reasonableness and have avoided an attempt to embarrass and disrupt the institution.

Change is seen, most of all, in the return to the earliest statement of mission of the college formulated when the school was first assuming a co-educational status in 1953 and took the new name William Carey College. Therefore, in the midst of change in 1989 there is also continuity. This is the continuity we seek throughout all the change that must and will come.

GOODBYE: salutation at parting — Farewell; till we meet again

Memories have been created throughout the 1988-1989 school year. And these memories will remain in the minds and hearts of the students.

Honors day marked the beginning of the end for many of the graduating seniors, and for the underclassmen it marked the chance for a new beginning. Teachers as well as students were honored at the special chapel service held for the faculty, staff, administration, student body and their parents.

Following the chapel service, a picnic was held and all were invited. Entertainment was provided by Carey's Show Choir and members of the 1989 staff of Carey Dinner Theatre. Fellowship and school spirit grew to the highest point of the year, and some sad goodbyes were exchanged.

The 1989 Commencement Ceremony marked the end of the 1988-

1989 school year. Graduating seniors shared a wide range of feelings from relief, great joy to much sadness at the end of their four years of friendship with both fellow students and staff. The ceremony celebrated for many the end of sixteen years of hard work and dedication toward their education. For many this seemed to be the end, but in reality it is just the beginning. These seniors are not just the future; they are the leaders of today, yesterday and tomorrow. They leave Carey with the knowledge which they seeked when they arrived.

Although they are no longer students at Carey, Carey will always be with them as they carry on their Alma Mater. Change dominates the William Carey College Class of 1989 as they truly are Defining Change.

Plans For The Future Diane Jamison and Steve Smith already are planning for the 1989-1990 school year. R. Thomaston

The Carey Tradition Alumni are honored at a luncheon held for them. A. McCardle

Sharing The Last Lunch Tracy Landry, Steve Smith and Shannon Robert share lunch together to discuss the future of the college. R. Thomaston

Packing Up Students leave their rooms bare as they leave for summer vacation. R. Robichaux

Formal Wear Dr. J.R. Noonkester addresses the class of 1989. R. Robichaux

Procrastination Rules Roy Robichaux as usual waits till the last minute to pack. T. Dwire

One Last Time Danny Rushing makes one final check for mail. R. Robichaux

High Honors President Noonkester presents Steve Bankston with the highest honor given, the Jenkins-Chastain Citizenship Award.

CONGRATULATIONS

Cindy the time has come for you to graduate
The day for which you could hardly wait
And this great accomplishment we celebrate
The best of advice our parents we can impart
"From what you know is right, never depart."
And remember "We love you." God bless Mum & Dad

CHANGE WITH PRIDE

Curtain! As the curtain falls on the close of the school year the students leave their setting behind. R. Robichaux

Call 911 — #912-911 The end of the year brought some unexpected changes. As Sheri Allen was leaving her car caught on fire. R. Robichaux

On The News One last time the news turned to Carey as the doors closed — for the summer R. Robichaux

End Of The World No it's just the end of school. R. Robichaux

DEFINING CHANGE

Changes were made from the last day of the 1988 school year, and continued to till the last day of the 1989 school year. For the most part these changes were smoothly executed. Smooth changes benefit the student body as well as the college. This year students learned how changes can help and hurt the college.

If we live in a world that doesn't change then we really don't live at all. Carey College has lived a long life, full of changes. From the very beginning when the College changed its name to William Carey till today as it prepares to change school years, changes have been needed to continue.

Emptied Halls The halls emptied as the students packed to go home. R. Robichaux

Mother Nature Even Mother Nature added to the changes as a storm damaged the trees during exam week. R. Robichaux

DEFINING CHANGE

Change will continue. As the year closes, buildings are emptied and the campus becomes a ghost town. But plans for a new and even better year are being made. The administration and staff plan to work all summer to create a new environment for the students to return to in the fall.

Today as students say goodbye to each other, they leave the old Carey behind, and prepare to say hello, in the fall, to an old friend with a new look.

Ready and Waiting Dorm rooms were left as bare as they were found for the new students in the fall. R. Robichaux

New Beginnings Buildings were locked to await the new school year. R. Robichaux

DEFINING CHANGE

As Editor of the Crusader '89 I would like to apologize for the delay in printing this volume. I hope it will add to the memories which we shared as a student body and as a family.

My thanks to all those who worked on the Crusader Staff. May God bless you and always be with you.

the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation 1999). The prevalence of mental health problems has increased in the general population, and the incidence of mental health problems has increased in the prison population.

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the mental health needs of prisoners. The Department of Health (2000) has published a strategy for mental health services, which includes a commitment to improve the mental health of prisoners. The Department of Health (2000) has also published a strategy for mental health services, which includes a commitment to improve the mental health of prisoners.
